

Chasing Love©

(David Hampton)

OOOH, OOOH, OOOH, OOOOO.

(verse)

I tried to find you, I looked everywhere.

Then I finally realized.

There is no you, there's just a dream,

A silky vision I'll chase for life.

(verse)

There's someone for everyone,

I've heard it all before.

But from break up to break out,

There has to be much more.

(chorus)

There's got to be,

A love for me,

I feel it in my bones.

But every time I venture out,

I end up all alone.

(short music bridge)

I'm tired of chasing love,

Maybe love is chasing me.

(verse)

There's no real design for love,

I know, I've looked it up.

From mythology to psychology,

No theories make the cut.

(verse)

I guess maybe time will tell,

But how much do I have left?

I spend my days counting the years,

Until I can only guess.

(Music bridge)

(chorus)

There's got to be,

A love for me,

I feel it in my bones.

But every time I venture out,

I end up all alone.

(short music bridge)

I'm tired of chasing love,

Maybe love is chasing me.
