

Don't Let Me In ©

(D. Hampton)

(verse)

Got my job back today at Bob Pearson's.
Old Virgil stood up for an old pal.
Said I'm a hard worker with fam'ly,
And I needed one more chance,
So the boss said I'm on again for now.

(verse)

Yeah, I'm with all the guys down at Ed's place,
Just stopped for a beer and watch the fight.
But after what happened the last time,
I'm callin' to let you know,
Just what to do when I get home tonight.

(chorus)

When you see me standin' on the porch,
And I'm lookin' for a key.
Honey it's not really me.
Don't let me in.

Get the kids and lock 'em in their room,
And make sure that they're safe.
Then go grab your can of mace.
Don't let me in.

And though you can hear me cryin' out,
'Til you can't stand it no more.
Honey, please don't go near the door.
Don't let me in.

(verse)

Babe, it's cold out here, my coat's in there,
Please forget what I said before.
I won't hurt you no more.
Please let me in.

(verse)

Hon, I'm beggin you with all my heart,
Please don't treat me this way.
God, what more can I say.
Please let me in.

(Narrative)

C'mon darlin'...
I only had one beer...

(narrative)

You know I love you...

(sfx: Door unlocks and door squeaks)

(narrative)

Thanks, baby.
